Naomi Joffe

After fellowship, I hope to obtain a faculty position within an academic medical center that will allow me to provide clinical services to pediatric populations, actively participate in research, and partake in supervision and training activities. As a Behavioral Medicine and Clinical Psychology (BMCP) Fellow within the Center for Adherence Promotion and Self-Management, I am being afforded many opportunities that are helping to ensure that I am well-prepared to reach these future goals. Under the mentorship of Dr. Lori Crosby, I am studying the transition from pediatric to adult care among young adults with Sickle Cell Disease with the goal of improving patient adherence/self-management and disease outcomes. I have had the opportunity to present at conferences on this topic, develop transition-related interventions, gain experience in manuscript preparation, and receive specialized training in Stanford's Chronic Disease Self-Management Program. Working in the multidisciplinary Cancer and Blood Diseases Institute Comprehensive Sickle Cell Center, I am acquiring additional skills in supervision as well as providing consultations to patients and their caregivers. As a BMCP fellow, I have access to many didactic activities (e.g., Psychology Research Group, Fellows' Statistics) and weekly seminars that focus on topics directly related to my current goals. The excellent training opportunities at this institution illustrate the strong commitment of the faculty to our training as fellows and to our future success.

Selected Publications:

1. McGrady, M. E., Joffe, N. E., Follansbee-Junger, K., & Cushing, C. (2011). Internship interview day: Make it count. Society of Pediatric Psychology Progress Notes, 35(3), 8.

2. Joffe, N. E., Cohen, L. L., Bearden, D. J., & Welkom, J. S. (2009). Behavioral approaches for infant pain relief. In. F. Columbus (Ed.). Acute pain. New York: Nova Science Publishers.

3. Bearden, D. J., Cohen, L. L., Welkom, J. S., & Joffe, N. E. (2009). Assessment of acute pediatric pain. In. F. Columbus (Ed.). Acute pain. New York: Nova Science Publishers.

4. Welkom, J. S., Cohen, L. L., Joffe, N. E., & Bearden, D. J. (2009). Psychological approaches to acute pediatric pain management. In. F. Columbus (Ed.). Acute pain. New York: Nova Science Publishers.

5. Joffe, N. E., Cohen, L. L., Masuda, A. Evaluation of a body pillow to aid pediatric spinal fusion recovery. Submitted.

Training Goal	Activity	Advisor/Mentor	Timeline	Notes
Manuscript Writing & Publication - To build on publication history programmatically - To obtain manuscript writing experiences with multiple faculty to be exposed to methods of manuscript writing/analyses/etc. - To complete manuscripts from prior research projects - To increase efficiency and strengthen skills in manuscript writing - To increase knowledge of where to place manuscripts (publication outlets)	Project 1: PedsQL Rheumatology Module in adolescence with fibromyalgia	Susmita Kashikar-Zuck	August 2012 – September 2012	Discussion section needs to be finished. Goal is to submit manuscript.
	Project 2: Body-Pillow for adolescents post spinal fusion surgery	Lindsey Cohen	August 2011 – TBD	1st draft of manuscript is written. Goal is to submit manuscript.
	Project 3: Culture and ethnicity group paper	Denny Drotar, Ahna Pai, Kevin Hommel, Lori Crosby, Avani Modi	August 2012 - June 2013
	Project 4: SCD Academy	Lori Crosby	August 2012 – October 2012	Formulate and outline manuscript.
	Project 5: Portal Development 1 (Photovoice)	Lori Crosby	August 2012 – November 2012	Take lead on methods and results section
	Project 6: Portal Development 2 (Usability Testing/Focus Group)	Lori Crosby	August 2012 – December 2012	Take lead on methods and results section
	Project 7: Livewell Project (Case Study?)	Lori Crosby	Spring 2013	Formulate and outline manuscript.
	Project 8: SCD QOL & Disease Management	Lori Crosby	Spring 2013	TBD
	Project 9: Self-Management	Lori Crosby	Spring 2013	TBD
Statistical Expertise - Increase	Take relevant courses, learn through	Drotar (for courses), Adherence	Ongoing; as relevant opportunitie	Will continue to discuss opportunitie

knowledge of and ability to implement a range of stat techniques	consultation with statisticians/faculty	Center Faculty and students	s arise and as needs arise for manuscripts	s with AC faculty
Grant Writing - To gain exposure to grant-writing	Attend & provide reviews for PRG	BMCP faculty	August 2012 - July 2013
Manuscript Review - Exposure to reviewing manuscripts with multiple faculty (e.g., to increase ability to provide useful constructive criticism to authors, to review efficiently)	Review 2 manuscripts (2 separate faculty members)	TBD	August 2012 – June 2013

Clinical - To further develop specialized treatment skills with pediatric populations (≤8 hours/week) - To obtain supervision experience - To increase knowledge of clinical program development	Sickle Cell Clinic	Crosby	August 2012 – June 2013	Lori and Naomi will discuss (towards end of Yr 1) in what capacity Naomi will be involved in this clinic in year 2
	Umbrella Supervision (Sickle Cell Clinic)	Crosby	August 2012 – January 2013	Provide umbrella supervision to Clinical Child Resident 1 clinic/week
	Umbrella Supervision (Sickle Cell Clinic)	Crosby	August 2012 – June 2013	Provide umbrella supervision to advanced graduate student 2 clinics/week
	1 inpatient consultation patient	Piazza-Waggoner	July 2012 – June 2013	Provide BMCP support to inpatient during admissions
	Chronic Disease Self-Management Program Master Training (CDSMP)	Crosby	August 2012 – September 2012	Attend 4-week training
	Sickle Cell Self-Management Group	Crosby	September 2012 – November 2012	Co-lead 6-week group
Licensure - To progress towards obtaining clinical licensure	Take EPPP exam		October 2012 – February 2013	Exam preparation in early fall.

Clinical research implementation - Obtain experience providing clinical intervention within context of research - Obtain exposure to management or research projects - Focus on interventions in formats or with content in which I have less experience	Outcomes/QI Research: 1) Transition modules 2) TCD Brochure 3) Home Pain Plan	Crosby	July 2012 - November 2012	Work with Sickle Cell Team to design/edit materials and conduct 2 PDSAs
	Self-Management Group Intervention	Crosby	September 2012 – November 2012	Co-facilitate 6-week intervention
	Patient-Portal Intervention	Crosby	August 2012 – November 2012	Lead intervention for 3 participants
	Development of Procedures (e.g missing data, treatment fidelity, participant tracking, implementation)	Crosby	August 2012 – July 2013
Professional Development	SPP Adherence Special Interest Group	N/A	August 2011 – July 2012
	SPP Diversity Special Interest Group – Newsletter committee member	N/A	August 2011 – July 2012
Scientific Presentation - Obtain additional experience presenting findings at scientific meetings	Submit abstract to give talk/presentation at a national/regional conference	TBD	August 2011 – July 2012	