Dr. Maryam Fouladi Receives Great Honor, Starting a New Chapter in Brain Tumor Research at CBDI

A pioneer in brain tumor treatment and research, Maryam Fouladi became the first Marjory J. Johnson Chair of Brain Tumor Translation Research at Cincinnati Children's. This chair recognizes Dr. Fouladi's achievements as an internationally respected leader in pediatric neuro-oncology and her work to develop new approaches to treatment that has transformed care for children with brain tumors.

Dr. Larry Kun, Chair of Radiological Sciences at St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, travelled from Memphis, Tennessee to honor Maryam and share the story of Maryam's many contributions in the search for the cure of brain tumors.

Dr. Fouladi was elected Chair of the National Cancer Institute-funded Pediatric Brain Tumor Consortium in 2012. She has received numerous awards, served as the leader of many important clinical trials testing innovative therapies, and has more than 60 key publications in highly prestigious journals.

Our Clinics are Moving!

A view of the pediatric cancer center under construction now

Behind the purple plywood on the first floor, tremendous renovations are underway. The new year will find the CBDI clinics in a new location. Our move to the first floor of location A will coincide with the opening and expansion of centers of specialized care for cancer patients.

Our newly designed & expanded centers will feature:

- Convenient location on the first floor
- Brand-new, state-of-the-art treatment facility
- Family-friendly waiting areas
- New centers for Adolescent and Young Adult (AYA) patients and a new Survivor Center
- Beautiful design created by patients & professional artists, extending the Katie's Kingdom theme

We look forward to providing state-of-the art service in our new space.
