Registry for Eosinophilic Gastrointestinal Disorders (REGID)

What:

This study is a registry that will allow for the standardization of care for patients diagnosed with an Eosinophilic Gastrointestinal Disorder while also allowing us to identify gaps in care that need to be addressed and areas for future research.

Who:

Patients of all ages diagnosed with an Eosinophilic Gastrointestinal Disorder.

Details:

For More information regarding the registry for Eosinophilic Gastrointestinal Disorders (REGID), contact, Tommie Grotjan, B.S., CCRP Tommie.grotjan@cchmc.org (513)803-1655

Where:

Patients being seen at any of the following locations:

- Cincinnati Children's Hospital Medical Center
- The Children's Hospital (Denver, Colorado)
- The Children's Hospital of Philadelphia
- University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine
- Rady Children's Hospital
- Northwestern University School of Medicine
- Riley Children's Hospital

4/15/2013 V.1

Approval Signature: Contact Person: Deptmartment/Ext.: Sign valid Dates to