Division of Sports Medicine

At Cincinnati Children's, our Pediatric Sports Medicine experts are focused on caring exclusively for young athletes. Here, you'll find the only program in the tri-state that offers a full spectrum of care to meet an athlete's needs — whether it's care after an injury or helping to improve an athlete's performance.

Because we're exclusively dedicated to sports medicine for the young athlete, the care an athlete receives here will be second to none – the best technology, the best diagnosis and treatment – and will include hands-on evaluation and therapy.
