Learn about Job Opportunities at Cincinnati Children's

Cincinnati Children's is hosting another in a series of employment workshops for the community on Thursday, February 15, 2018 at South Avondale Elementary School.

Avondale residents are encouraged to come and learn about job opportunities and work requirements at Cincinnati Children's. Recruiters from the Human Resources department will be on hand to give tips on how to write a winning resume, how to improve interviewing skills, and other advice on how to prepare for a career at Cincinnati Children's.

Taryn Lewis

Taryn Lewis, a student at the University of Cincinnati, attended the One-Stop Workshop last May. She applied for a job in Guest Services and was hired in June.

Taryn says she is grateful to the organizers of the workshop for giving her the opportunity to network, ask questions and learn about the hiring process. She says she received great advice on how to improve her resume, how to apply for a job at Cincinnati Children's and the right moves to make in following the employment process, every step of the way.

of participants at November's One Stop Employment Workshop agreed that they learned something new about careers at Cincinnati Children's and the workshop was a good use of their time of participants at November's One Stop Employment Workshop said they will apply for a job at Cincinnati Children's Cincinnati Children's currently has open positions for patient escorts, health unit coordinators, call center agents, customer service representatives and more. To learn about jobs you may qualify for, come to our next event:

Register Now for Parents on Point

Being a parent just might be the hardest job in the world—and yet it's one we don't go to school to learn how to do.

If you'd like to feel more confident as a parent, Parents on Point is the program for you!

Cincinnati Children's has partnered with Rockdale Academy and New Beginnings Church of the Living God to bring Parents on Point to the Avondale community. The program is proven to help parents feel more confident and to improve behavior in young children.

Parents on Point brings together parents and grandparents to build connections, share ideas and problem-solve common challenges parents face when raising children ages 2–5 years old. Parents take away from the sessions a 'bag of tricks' to use in common parenting situations. Twenty-Eight parents signed up to join the program this fall. The first group from Rockdale Academy graduated on January 25, 2018 after completing the 12-session program. Caregivers received certificates, awards and sported their Super Parent capes in recognition of their accomplishments.

Here's what parents are saying:

"Everything we've been learning is all flowing together now, and they (my kids) are starting to realize it too."

"I'm just starting to be more patient. They (my children) should be taught the right way. I've got some more patience now."

Parents on Point will give you new skills to help you raise happy and healthy kids.

Parents on Point | 12 sessions, each 2 hours
For parents of children ages 2–5 years old

Supplier and Workforce Diversity

If you live in Avondale, you may have noticed construction work is underway on the Northern Avenue garage located at Erkenbrecher and Harvey Avenues. Crews are working on the excavation, the deep foundations, and the shoring required along Erkenbrecher. Concrete work will begin shortly.

Cincinnati Children's and partner Messer Construction have a proven track record and commitment to workforce diversity and supplier diversity. The Northern Avenue garage project is exceeding the target of 50% supplier diversity, and on target to meet workforce diversity goals.

The garage will be under construction for at least the next year, with an estimated completion of December of 2018.

If you would like more information about construction job opportunities join us for the Community Open House on Thursday, February 8, 2018 from 5:30 – 7 pm at South Avondale Elementary School.

Bernie Suer of Messer Construction will provide regular updates on supplier and workforce diversity on all Cincinnati Children's construction projects planned for Avondale, and we will keep you posted.
